Greetings! The primary purpose of this newsletter is to provide you with information on summer 2009 Honors classes. As you will see, we have two options for students who want or need to earn Honors Seminar credit this summer and one option for students looking for an Honors World Society and Issues (WSI) course. One Honors Seminar will probably also meet elective requirements in biology -- and will provide terrific preparation for students who will be writing a thesis in the sciences -- and the other should meet elective requirements in political science, global analysis, or international relations. Students pursuing a major in International Business can probably use this course to meet support work requirements. And don't forget that the Honors College also offers courses through the Summer Law Preparation Academy!

The newsletter also contains some information on a guest lecture on constitutional law that Mr. David Frederick (brother of our Provost) will give on March 5th at 12:30 p.m. In addition to being an attorney who has argued cases in front of the Supreme Court, Mr. Frederick also was a Rhodes Scholar, so at a separate, small, sit-down session at 11:00 a.m., he will be talking about preparing to win a Rhodes Scholarship and other prestigious national scholarships. Students who are interested in competing for national scholarships should contact Dr. Ben Olguin (ben.olguin@utsa.edu) or Caroline Castellanos (honors@utsa.edu) about attending. Freshmen and sophomores are particularly encouraged to attend!

Our next newsletter -- which will follow closely on the heels of this one -- will address fall 2009 courses and the procedures for registering during Honors priority registration, which begins April 6th. We do have some exciting offerings coming up for fall. In a collaboration with the College of Business, we are offering an Honors section of MGT 3613, Managing Human Resources, which will be taught by Mr. Dick Sibbernsen, a former VP with AT&T. Since Mr. Sibbernsen will be flying in from the midwest for each class, the class will meet in an unusual format -- a full-day Saturday class on five Saturdays during the term. Only Honors students and outstanding COB students will be allowed to register for the class, which promises to be stimulating and particularly valuable to Business majors! MGT and HRM majors can, of course, use the course to meet major requirements. Other students can use the course as an elective in the COB (where one is necessary for the major) or can substitute the course in Honors for an Honors Seminar or a CBK Honors course.

Through another collaboration with the School of Nursing at UTHSC-SA, we will also be offering an exciting course called "Nursing and Literature." Students who transfer to the UTHSC-SA School of Nursing will be able to use the course as an upper-division elective in the nursing program, but all pre-nursing students will be able to use the course to meet nursing prerequisites in the Humanities. Because of its focus on medical care giving, the course should also be of interest to students interested in pursuing other health professions.

And take a look inside this newsletter for information on workshops regarding preparing for graduate school and medical school!

Sincerely,

Ann R. Eisenberg, Ph.D.
Associate Dean of the Honors College
We hope you are all in good spirits and enjoying the semester. It is just about the middle of the semester, so we are halfway there! Spring Break is right around the corner and so are summer and fall registration. We encourage all of you to come in to the advising center if you have not done so recently to update your degree plan and make sure you are on track.

Priority registration for summer and fall will begin April 6th. To take full advantage of this perk for Honors students, you will need to have seen an advisor or turn in a schedule by April 3rd. We will be emailing you as soon as the Summer and Fall Schedule of Classes are posted on ASAP. Remember that priority registration for Honors students can guarantee a seat in a course that typically fills up very quickly!

You should be looking NOW to see if you have HOLDS or if there are prerequisites that would keep you from taking a course you would like to take. Students in the 04-06 and 06-08 catalogs should check the 08-10 catalog to see if there are any additional prerequisites that could be a problem for them. If a course now has a prerequisite that it did not have in your catalog, that prerequisite will be enforced! If you still want to take that course, you will need to get permission from the department. You can find a prerequisite override form on our website. Look under "Current Students" and then "Forms."

Please contact us now if you have any special concerns. You may schedule an appointment by contacting our front desk at 210-458-4106.

Best regards,

Diana and Ricardo

Beady Berler Scholarship for Study in Israel

The Beady Berler Scholarship Fund annually awards up to $5000 to one full-time student enrolled in a Texas college or university to study in Israel for a semester. Jewish and non-Jewish students are encouraged to apply. All you have to do to be considered for the scholarship is to complete an application and submit a 100-word essay on "Why I want to study in Israel."

For applications, contact Shayna Rehberg at 210-302-6812 or rehbergs@jfsatx.org.

Application Deadline: April 1, 2009
WORKSHOP
"Writing Personal Statements for Medical and Dental School"
Dr. Ann R. Eisenberg
Associate Dean of the Honors College
Tuesday, March 31, 2009 at 7:00 p.m.
HSS 2.01.06
Hosted by the Pre-Med Society

In this workshop, Dr. Eisenberg will share insights about writing effective personal statements for admission to medical and dental school. She will also share personal statements from former UTSA students who were successful in gaining admission to medical and dental school. Much of the information she will share will also be useful for students applying to admission to other health professions programs (e.g., pharmacy, OT, PT, PA schools). Participants are encouraged to bring a draft of a personal statement to the workshop with them!

WORKSHOP SERIES
"Writing Personal Statement for Graduate School"
Dr. Ann R. Eisenberg
Associate Dean of the Honors College
Two-Part Workshop: Monday, March 2 & Monday, March 17, 2009
1:00 p.m. in HSS 3.02.40

In the first part of this workshop series, Dr. Eisenberg will discuss how to write effective personal statements for admission to graduate school (Master's and Ph.D. programs) and will present ideas about topics that students can and should touch on in writing such essays. In the second part of the series, students will be asked to bring a draft of a personal statement to the workshop and will work with peers on editing and critiquing those drafts.

WORKSHOP SERIES
“Introduction to the Graduate Record Exam (GRE)”
Dr. Ann R. Eisenberg
Associate Dean of the Honors College
Three-Part Workshop: Monday, April 6; Monday, April 13; & Monday, April 20, 2009
1:00 p.m. in HSS 3.02.40

Dr. Eisenberg will provide students with an introduction to the Graduate Record (GRE) Exam. Over the series of workshops, she will present typical GRE problems and will demonstrate exercises and approaches to problem-solving that students can practice to improve their scores on the Verbal and Quantitative portions of the exam.
Ms. Chung, of Pearson Education Corporation, will be visiting UTSA to talk with students about career options in educational publishing. While this talk may be particularly important for students interested in careers in business, marketing, communications, and English, educational publishing offers career options to bright students in all academic fields, especially the liberal arts and sciences. Ms. Chung will also discuss her own entry into a career in education through the field of urban planning.

The Ronald E. McNair Post-Baccalaureate Achievement Program was created under the Higher Education Amendments of 1986. It was named in honor of Dr. Ronald E. McNair (an African-American engineer, scientist and astronaut who perished in the 1986 explosion of the space shuttle Challenger).

The McNair Scholars Program, as it is commonly referred to, will assist economically qualified, first generation college students and students from underrepresented groups in doctoral studies and scholarly activities. The program will provide services to underrepresented groups such as Hispanics, African Americans, Native/Alaska Americans and students with disabilities. All these activities are designed to prepare McNair scholars for the rigors of doctoral work and will ensure their preparation in all ways possible to obtain a Ph.D. or other terminal degree. They will receive the following supportive and academic services:

- Mentoring from Grad Students and Faculty
- Tutoring Referrals/Assistance
- Academic Advising by Grad Students & Faculty
- Intensive Faculty-led Research Activities
- GRE Prep Workshops and Exam Tips
- 10-week Summer Research Institute
- Presentations at Research Symposia
- Doctoral Prep Colloquial Series
- Participation at Regional McNair Conference
- Assistance with Graduate School Application Process
- $2,800 Stipend for Meeting Specific Milestones Throughout the Year
- Travel to Professional Conferences for Presenting Research
- Financial assistance for Room and Board on a case by case basis

All these activities are designed to prepare UTSA McNair scholars for the rigors of doctoral work and will ensure their preparation in all ways possible to obtain a Ph.D. or other terminal degree. McNair Staff will consult with UTSA colleges and other offices to identify and recruit eligible program participants. The UTSA McNair Scholars program is directed by Ms. Rita Cortez, Executive Director of TRIO and Outreach Programs and will be housed at the 1604 Campus.

For program information or to apply for the program, please visit the website, www.utsa.edu/mcnair call 458-4093 or email trio@utsa.edu

Ambassadorial Scholarships, The Rotary Foundation's oldest and best-known program, was founded in 1947. Since then, nearly 38,000 men and women from about 100 nations have studied abroad under its auspices. Today it is the world's largest privately funded international scholarships program. Nearly 800 scholarships were awarded for study in 2005-06. Through grants totaling approximately $500 million, recipients from about 70 countries studied in more than 70 nations.

Rotary scholarships provide Scholars with approximately $30,000 per year for tuition and fees, room and board, and travel. In addition to attending an academic program of their choice, Rotary Scholars participate in Rotary Club events in the host city. Students may apply and use Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships either prior to or after their graduation from college, as sophomores and above can apply.

Interested students will need to apply through a local Rotary Club. At UTSA contact, Dr. Ann Eisenberg (ann.eisenberg@utsa.edu) in the Honors College. The local application deadline is May 1 a FULL YEAR before the student intends to study abroad. If you apply in May of 2009, you will be eligible to study abroad in 2010-11.

The Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarship only supports study at overseas universities and not study-abroad through U.S-based universities. Students may select five options for where they wish to study, but the Rotary makes the final selection.

For more information, visit the Rotary Club website at: http://www.rotary.org/en/studentsandyouth/educationalprograms/Ambassadorialscholarships/Pages/ridefault.aspx.

The 2009 Golf Cart Parade Decorating Party is from 8:00 pm. to 12:00 am at the Paseo by University Center III on Thursday February 26. UHSA has acquired a golf cart and really needs your help in decorating the golf cart. This year’s theme for homecoming is ‘Battle of the Beaks’, so we need to incorporate that into our design. The 2009 Golf Cart Parade will be one of the largest ever and the decorating party is a great opportunity for groups to come together, have fun and celebrate as part of the UTSA community. We can’t wait to see you there!
ARE YOU INTERESTED IN GOING TO LAW SCHOOL?????

The Institute for Law and Public Affairs is accepting applications for

The UTSA 2009 Summer Law School Preparation Academy

The UTSA Summer Law School Preparation Academy is a premier pre-law Program designed to help students successfully apply and attend law school. The Summer Law School Preparation Academy encompasses 12 hours of coursework specifically designed to hone the reading and writing skills students will need to excel in their legal education.

Students who complete both Phases I and II earn a CERTIFICATE IN LEGAL REASONING. SLSPA students also receive a LSAT prep course, and are able to attend guest lecturers with visiting law school professors and information sessions by law-school admission representatives from every law school in Texas.

Reading and Writing in Science          Instructor: Mr. Deemah Schirf

Scientific writing is a learned skill, and this class is presented to aid students in learning and honing scientific writing skills. The successful student will learn to write laboratory reports and scientific articles for peer review, including what material to include in the abstract, introduction, materials and methods, results, and discussion sections and how to present them in a clear, concise manner. Correct citation of previous work will be emphasized along with the downside of plagiarism. Articles from different journals will be read and discussed to give the students different examples. The students will also learn that they must select journals appropriate for their work and write manuscripts in accordance with the publishers’ guidelines. Finally, the students will be given some background on the peer review process.

Title: Honors Seminar: Global Systems/       Time: MTWRF 2:30- 4:00 p.m.
Topics in World Cultures:Global Systems           Instructor: Dr. Boyka Stefanova

This course will focus on the evolution of the global system. The objective is to provide the background knowledge and analytical tools needed for understanding the complexity of world politics. The first half of the course will review key concepts in the study of global interactions, such as anarchy, order, sovereignty, power, interests, hegemony, and international society. It will trace the evolution of power constellations in the international system, the rise and decline of great powers, and questions of international order and governance. The second half of the course will apply these concepts to case studies and the discussion of key issues in contemporary world politics, including the theory of democratic peace, the emergence of democracy as a global norm, the clash of civilizations thesis, and the globalization debate.
